

JOB POSTING – POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWS

The Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy is looking to hire a Postdoctoral Fellow to support Professor Lynette Ong.

Area of Research: Chinese Politics or Chinese Political Economy

Description of Duties: To conduct research related to Chinese politics and/or political economy. To take charge of research projects, including leading a team of student researchers. Opportunities for collaboration with supervisor. Possible areas of specialization: conflict studies, governance, state-business relations, public opinion.

Salary: $65,000 per year, plus standard benefits

Closing Date: Applications will be accepted until the position is filled

Supervisor: Professor Lynette Ong

Expected Start Date: July 1, 2025

Required Qualifications: Candidates must have a PhD, with a strong background in quantitative methods. Knowledge of Chinese politics, and proficiency in Mandarin Chinese are also required.

Application Instructions: All individuals interested in the position must submit the following documents by the closing date to Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca using the subject line “Postdoc – [Your Name]”:

- a. A cover letter outlining how you meet the qualifications for the position
- b. Your academic CV
- c. A research sample that showcases your research ability (e.g., a dissertation chapter, a conference paper, or a published article)
- d. The names and contact information for three academic referees (Your referees will only be contacted once you’ve advanced to the interview round)

Term: 1 year with a renewal opportunity for a second year

FTE: This is a full-time position. The normal hours of work are 40 hours per week for a full-time postdoctoral fellow, recognizing that the needs of the employee’s research and training and the needs of the supervisor’s research program may require flexibility in the performance of the employee’s duties and hours of work.

If you have any questions about this opportunity, please connect with Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca
